HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dizziness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relieves instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh. (adv.)

For skin blemishes use Resinol

Don't be annoyed and embarrassed any longer by an ugly, blotchy skin. Apply a little Resinol Ointment and use Resinol Soap for your toilet, then note how much better your skin looks and feels. This wholesome treatment seldom fails to restore that healthy color and clarity of skin which every man desires.

Resinol Shaving Stick soothes tender skins. These three products at all drug stores.

Don't Prod Your Liver to Action

NR Overcomes Biliouness, Constipation, Sick Headache, Dizziness, No Gripe or Pain, Guaranteed.

The organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the stomach, liver and bowels working together in vigorous harmony, and you will not have to take medicine every day—just take one NR Tablet occasionally to keep your system in good condition and always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than it is to get well.

BANKERS TO HOLD JOINT CONVENTION

be enabled to get together and devise ways and means for a uniform conduct of business affairs, so as to coordinate every effort in the state looking toward a solid, constructive year of industrial growth.

H. Warner Martin, vice-president of the Lowry National Bank of Atlanta, and president of the Georgia Bankers Association, said Monday night when first announcement of the joint convention was made, that it was the general opinion among bankers of the state that business conditions generally warranted the utmost confidence in the future.

"We have passed through the period of business depression that was inevitable after the war, and of high costs and high prices," said Mr. Martin. "Once again business conditions are showing substantial foundations and every thinking student of commerce and finance is firmly convinced that in actual and potential security, business today is in far better condition than it was a year ago."

Leading speakers will address the Macon gathering and open floor discussions will combine the best financial thought in the state in a uniform program for the general benefit of the state industry.

The group meetings of the Georgia Bankers Association, usually held ahead of the state convention, will be held either before the convention, during the gathering or afterwards, at the option of the individual groups.

The call for the conference is sent out by the secretaries of both organizations, Haynes MacFadden, of the Georgia Bankers Association, and L. R. Adams, for the Country Bankers Association of Georgia.

An elderly man was persuaded by one of his sons to go with him to a football match.

The son, intent upon giving his father a good time, had booked two seats for the game.

"Now," said the son, joyfully, "don't be so sore about it, your seven-and-six man you've ever seen."

The old man grunted.

"I don't know so much about that," he said, dismally. "Seven-and-six, all I paid for my marriage license."

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Muterole.

And Muterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster.

It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Muterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard.

It is fine for sore throat, colds, croup, whooping cough, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back of joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bites, colds on the chest.

Nothing like Muterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous.

These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel.

They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums.

So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a clogged liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

COUNCIL BLOCKS PLANNING FUND

$15,000 Appropriation Tabled—Mayson Instructed to Protest Increase in Phone Rates.

City council tabled a resolution Monday afternoon to appropriate $15,000 for the purpose of enabling the city planning commission to inaugurate and carry on its work through the balance of the year.

Council also adopted a report from a special committee recommending adverse action on a proposed by Aldine Chambers to purchase the waste steam generated at the municipal crematory, and passed a resolution protesting against the recent increase of rates allowed to the Southern Bell Telephone company by the railroad commission.

The appropriation to the city planning commission was recommended by the finance committee, which acted on a request of Mayor Key and a delegation of planners at a meeting last week.

Expressions of opinion from councilmen who voted against the measure showed that they were actuated by the desire to exercise rigid economy, and not because of any opposition to the commission itself or its purpose.

The paper can be taken from the table at any subsequent meeting.

Waste Steam Offer.

Negotiations between Mr. Chambers and the city for purchase of the crematory steam have been pending.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT IS THE MATTER?

When You Feel Out of Sorts and See Things with a Dull Eye

LOOK TO YOUR BLOOD

Pale Complexions, Languid Feelings, Lowered Vitality, Need More Red Blood. Take Pepto-Mangan.

So many people spend week after week feeling down and out. They never stop to think that something really is the matter. They satisfy themselves by saying, "Oh, I'm not sick. I'll be all right tomorrow."

And tomorrow comes again, and again, still they feel depressed and languid, scarcely able to get around.

If you don't feel like yourself, if you are not yourself, if you are weak and nervous, your blood needs strengthening.

You should know about Pepto-Mangan, that famous blood tonic. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it because it contains just the ingredients needed to make red blood; it renews your energy, puts you where you ought to be. Begin with it today. Get the tablets if they will be more convenient to take than the liquid.

Both have the same medicinal properties. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," that's full name. (adv.)

for months, and a special committee, composed of Alderman J. R. Seawright, chairman of the finance committee; Councilman W. D. Hoffman and Councilman Claude Ashby, was appointed to investigate the proposition and make a report.

After going fully into the offer, the committee decided that the city would not materially profit from the transaction, and recommended that his proposal be rejected.

Mr. Chambers offered to pay 21 mills per hundred pounds for the waste steam delivered at the plant, and take daily between a minimum of 150,000 and a maximum of 300,000 pounds. It was his purpose to sell it for heating purposes.

The resolution carrying a protest against the increase granted the telephone company was introduced by Alderman J. L. Carpenter, and called for the appointment of a special committee of five to divide the matter. By a vote of 15 to 6, the resolution was tabled.

Later in the session, however, Alderman Carpenter gave notice of his intention to amend the paper, and moved to call it from the table. He was joined by Councilman J. C. Murphy and Councilman J. R. Nutting, and council adopted a motion to reconsider.

Telephone Resolution.

Mr. Carpenter amended his resolution to direct the city attorney to take steps in protest against the rate raise, and in this form it was carried, but with a few members voting no.

Councilman Murphy asserted that the new rates permitted by the railroad commission are "unjust and discriminatory, and proper evidence is placed before the commission. I believe its members should be induced to reopen the petition."

A communication was read from the city's Public Health Department, which stated that the new rates permitted by the railroad commission are "unjust and discriminatory, and proper evidence is placed before the commission. I believe its members should be induced to reopen the petition."

Building Happiness

Now that building costs have come down, your dream of home should come true.

Home is the best place in the world, and should be built of the best material. Build it as you would build a cathedral, for it is a sacred place. Don't put in cheap woodwork that will warp and swell, doors you can't shut or sash you can't raise in wet weather.

If you wish the best work in your home we are at your service.

COTTON ACREAGE REDUCTION URGED

J. J. Brown Appeals to Farmers to Attend Mass Meetings in Every County of State.

Georgia farmers were urged to plant preferably one-third, and certainly not more than half a normal cotton crop, with the remainder of the soil used for food and feed products, in an appeal made yesterday by J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture, to planters throughout the state in urging them to attend mass meetings to be held in every county on Thursday of this week in the interest of reducing cotton acreage.

Commissioner Brown urged that the farmers of the state not only pass resolutions, but also appoint active committees to make the movement 100 per cent. As a result of this movement, he states not only will the fertility of the soil be saved, but it will tend to reduce the amount of money now going outside the state annually for food and feed products.

From all sections of Georgia have come messages to the agricultural department that deep interest on the part of farmers is being awakened.

The proclamation of Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, issued last week, which was along the same lines as the statement issued by Commissioner Brown Monday, has created interest throughout the state and caused a feeling of optimism among the state officials interested in the movement.

Commissioner Brown's statement follows:

To the Farmers and Business Interests of Georgia:
On next Thursday, February 10, you have been requested by Governor Dorsey to meet at your respective county sites throughout the state of Georgia for the purpose of signing pledges to reduce your cotton acreage to not more than one-third of the total lands cultivated on your farms. This percentage of acreage to be planted to cotton was worked out at the cotton meeting in Memphis the 15th day of last December, an expert statistician allowing the meeting that not more than one-third the tillable land in the cotton belt planted to cotton would produce, under normal conditions, about one-half of normal crop, or say, six or seven million bales.

It is not my purpose to discuss in this article the question of overproduction or the surplus cotton now on hand, but to be fair I can say nothing less than that if the markets of the world were open to cotton and those in actual need of cotton clothing could be supplied, there would not be a surplus bale of cotton in the world. But as market conditions and the rate of foreign exchange makes the sale and distribution of cotton impossible for the time being, and as our present system of deflation, contraction of the currency and the further threat by those who hold much of the cotton in the hands of the people as collateral that 20 per cent of same must be sold for liquidation in the immediate future, and the further fact that the short selling speculative interests of this country as well as Europe seem to be in absolute control of the cotton market and are selling our anticipated crop of cotton on future contracts for delivery next October and November at less than one-half of what it cost us to produce it, it is absolutely necessary and imperative that we do not produce more than six or seven million bales of cotton.

If we wish to maintain a price on the raw cotton of the cotton on hand and to ensure that that would save us from absolute bankruptcy and ruin.

We need Cotton.

We are told by many expert cotton factors that the world needs all the cotton that we can produce, but let us say it is the planters of cotton that we have no guarantee that the cotton-consuming world will take a full crop of cotton with the supply on hand at a price equal to the cost of production plus a reasonable profit. On the other hand, the gambling speculators are now selling our anticipated 1921 crop to the world at one-half what it will cost us to produce it, or from 12 to 14 cents per pound for seed and delivery.

I do not subscribe to the suggestion that the less we make, the more we will be worth, but it is a fact that every industrial institution in the civilized world carries on its business on the basis of a profit. It is never figure whether the profit is theirs or ours, but the fact is that they demand production irrespective of price; but on the other hand, they are kindly, and we commend them for their business judgment, that they will not do business at a loss.

We appeal to the farmers to put the people of the business world by refusing to grow any more cotton in 1921 than the world can take and to sell at a price equal to cost of production plus a fair and reasonable profit. It has been said by many that America must produce in sufficient quantities to save the world from cold and hunger. This we are going to do, but before saving other countries let us first save the interests of America, thereby saving America as a whole to the end that we may contribute to distressed humanity throughout the world. But charity, if you choose to call it, begins at home, and we should not forget that divine writ that says that "who will not provide for his own household has denied the faith and is worse than an infidel."

Cotton Will Advance.

If the cotton farmers show by their refusal to plant more acreage than will be necessary to make a one-half crop, the world will know that the cotton spinning world will know that it is a fact that very moment cotton will advance and my honest opinion is that it will not take long until the cotton market will be well as the futures for the new crop will be selling at a price commensurate with the cost of production.

If the cotton-producing interests, including every line of business, as well as the farmers themselves, refuse to sell the cotton now on hand and refuse to produce a new crop to be delivered at the prices now being made by future contracts, they will have the most drastic and final solution that has ever hit the south since the civil war.

It has been said by some that if the farmers sign contracts agreeing to reduce their acreage so as to make a half crop, that they will not keep their pledge. It is true that in the past when they only met in mass meetings and only passed resolutions regarding acreage reductions, that many a weak-kneed farmer has broken his pledge and increased his acreage, but at this time, with such dangerous conditions surrounding us and after signing pledges, it will be an insult to every honest farmer to suggest that he would be so treacherous as to break his pledge as to go back on his pledge and undertake to deceive his neighbor.

I feel confident that the general public will give full credit to those of us who have been in the thick of this fight since 1914 for being honest and sincere when we tell them that we know of no other plan that can be put into operation in time to save the cotton section from financial ruin other than the absolute determination to produce but a half crop.

Pooling of Money.
The suggestion recently offered by the farmers and business interests of Butts county that the farmers of the south pool their money that it would take to produce other crop and buy their anticipated yield right on a New York New York exchange and decline to plant a single seed would be the ideal thing to do if we were sure that the short sellers could be financially tied up to that extent that they would be forced to deliver these contracts. This would be fighting the devil with fire; this would be giving the dealers and bear manipulators of these exchanges a dose of the same medicine that would not cure them, but kill and destroy forever all gambling contracts.

I am in position to know that there are many farmers who have already bought their anticipated yield and will not plant a seed of cotton in 1921 and I see no objection to every farmer who is financially able to safely margin his contracts buying his cotton instead of producing it, and especially at a price of one-half of what he knows it will cost him to produce cotton. This would undoubtedly be good business judgment, to say the least of it, but, as we feel this cannot be done for the want of time in sufficient volume to meet the present crisis, let all who are in the cotton business, and the remainder plant so as to reduce the yield and we will force the cotton-consuming world hereafter to consult the growers as to the price of their cotton before they sell it on these so-called legitimate exchanges. Respectfully yours,
J. J. BROWN.

SHOWS NECESSITY OF CUTTING CROP OF COTTON IN 1921

Columbia, S. C., February 7.—Declaring that the time has come when the truth regarding the cotton situation must be driven home to every farmer in the south, the American Cotton Association has issued a statement appealing to every organization in the south to assist it in its efforts to secure an acreage reduction this year.

Statistics are given which tend to show that on the first of next August, before a bale of the 1921 crop is picked, there will be on hand a surplus of over 8,000,000 bales, or almost a one-year crop. It is declared that the planting of anything like a normal acreage in cotton this year will be a simple suicidal business policy, not alone for farmers, but for every business in the south. For this reason it is declared that the business and professional men should be active in the movement to secure acreage reduction.

The gravity of the situation confronting the south as regards the planting of another cotton crop and the apprehension on our part that there are thousands of people who do not comprehend just what we are up against, impels us to issue this appeal to the farmers, business and professional men of the south," says the statement issued by the American Cotton Association.

"We feel that it is our duty to place the facts squarely before them, as startling as they are, in order that every organized agency may join with us in our efforts to see to it that no farmer in the south plants over one-third of his cultivated land in cotton this year. To do otherwise will be to invite disaster and financial bankruptcy."

"On August 1, 1920, there was a surplus of American cotton on hand, according to Hester, of 6,086,000 bales. The ten-year average amount of American cotton on hand August 1 is 1,200,000 bales.

It is thus seen that the surplus on hand on last August 1, was almost six times larger than the average amount on hand at that time. The probable amount of surplus cotton on hand on August 1, 1921, is estimated by those who are in good position to know, at over 8,000,000 bales, or almost a one-year crop.

The greatest consumption of every American cotton ever known in one year was 15,000,000 bales. Ten-year average of consumption of American cotton, prior to the great war, was 13,000,000 bales. With so many of the foreign mills shut down, you may figure yourself to how much will be consumed this year.

The American crop of 13,000,000 bales this year indicates a world supply of all kinds of cotton, including American, of 25,000,000 bales. "The world carry-over, including American cotton, may reach a total of 13,000,000 bales. The world, during the first present year, is not likely to consume more than 15,000,000 bales. These are the facts. The figures are startling, but we believe they are correct. They were prepared by the cotton acreage reduction committee at Memphis, Tenn., appointed by the great convention of bankers, farmers and merchants, held at Memphis. This committee consulted with the best posted cotton men in the world.

Case of 'Lop Ear' Ill at The Tower, Worries Solicitor

Just what disposition to make of "Red" Wilson, alias "Lop Ear" Wilson, who has a long criminal record, and is now an inmate at the Tower, is puzzling the county authorities. Red is under indictment in connection with the operations of the bunco syndicate. He is suffering from tuberculosis and a very weak heart, according to a report made by county physician, Dr. W. J. Auten, to Solicitor General John A. Boykin, who made an examination last week at the solicitor's request.

"Red" is now having hemorrhages daily and, according to the report of Dr. Auten, he is a menace to the other prisoners. He cannot be kept in the Battle Hill sanitarium unless he is released from all criminal charges. In the event that Solicitor Boykin sanctions his release by the court on account of the prisoner's physical condition, he will be taken into custody by authorities in other states where he is wanted on similar charges.

So the county authorities have taken the matter under consideration and will map out some plan whereby the health of the other prisoners will be protected and Wilson will be given a chance to regain his health.

EXPRESS RATES WILL BE DISCUSSED TODAY

An open hearing on the application of the American Railway Express company for a re-classification of various commodities, in compliance with the recent decision of the interstate commerce commission, will be held in the commission's offices this morning at 10 o'clock.

An increase in rates applying specially to perishable goods is one of the principal features asked by the express company. The Savannah Wholesale Fish dealers' association has filed a protest and is expected to oppose the petition at the hearing today.

The general increase of 13-12 per cent recently allowed by the interstate commerce commission, but which was denied by the Georgia railroad commission, will be discussed before Special Examiner Keene for the I. C. C. Thursday in the federal building.

GUTHRIE WILL REPORT ON WORTH CONDITIONS

Sylvester Meeting Condemns Mob Violence in Resolutions to Governor.

Sylvester, Ga., February 7.—(Special.)—The committee named by Warren T. McCray, Governor of Indiana, which he stated upon the hearing of the requisition matter of Mace Gidden, negro held in Indiana for the killing of Deputy Sheriff of Worth county, he would name and send here for the purpose of making a general investigation of existing conditions, arrived in Sylvester this morning in the person of Hon. W. A. Guthrie, who was most cordially received by citizens of Sylvester and Worth county and shown every courtesy possible.

Mr. Guthrie made a most favorable impression upon those who met him, being assuring in his statements that it is not the purpose of his state to harbor criminals in the least and that his was a mission to give to Governor McCray first-hand information as to conditions here. Citizens here feel confident that he will make a fair and impartial report of his findings.

At a mass meeting of about 150 of the most influential and best citizens of Sylvester and Worth county held at the courthouse this evening, a strong resolution was unanimously passed, addressed to Governor McCray, which was handed to Mr. Guthrie to take back with him. The resolution condemned violence, and assured the governor that they would see to it that the defendant is returned here, he will be given every protection and will have speedy, fair and impartial trial.

BIBLE LECTURE HERE PLANS TOUR OF HOLY LANDS

A. F. Futterer, who has been delivering Biblical lectures in Atlanta churches for some weeks, will leave within the course of a few months for a tour of Bible lands in an effort to discover new facts that may throw light upon ancient history. Mr. Futterer is originally from Australia, where he served for some time as missionary. His wife and son will remain in Atlanta for some time after his departure for the Holy Lands.

RIVAL COMPANIES IN LEGAL BATTLE ON PATENT RIGHT

Evidence purporting to show that the patent rights of the plaintiffs were invalid was introduced by the Atlanta Utility Works of East Point Monday in the federal court litigation for an injunction instituted by Mrs. Anita Pauline Blair and the Oil Mill Machinery and Manufacturing company, of Texas, against the former concern over certain alleged patent infringements.

The plaintiffs charge that the East Point concern manufactures a certain model of saw-filing machine which embodies features covered by patents issued to certain Texas inventors who afterwards assigned their interests in the inventions to the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs concluded their case Monday, and the defense began its testimony. The Atlanta Utility company alleges that the patent rights held by the plaintiffs are void because the features of the machine covered by the patents involved were in use prior to their alleged discovery by the Texas inventors.

CUTS IN GASOLINE AND IN KEROSENE PRICES ARE MADE

The Standard Oil company, the Durham Oil company and the Reid Oil company Monday announced a reduction of 1-cent per gallon on gasoline and kerosene throughout the state of Georgia. Gasoline was reduced from 31 to 30 cents and kerosene from 20½ to 19½ cents.

The Texas company is expected to announce a reduction in the course of the next few days, according to officials here. Recent drops in crude oil prices are responsible for the reduction in this state, according to information Monday.

Further cuts are not expected by officials for some time.

ATLANTA SCOUTS JOIN IN KEEPING GOOD TURN WEEK

How to do a good turn daily was told business men by the boy scouts of the city Monday when several hundred youngsters canvassed offices in the downtown business districts. This is to be the program for each afternoon of the week in which scouts will celebrate the eleventh anniversary of the founding of their organization, and which is known as "Good Turn Week."

Fathers of the boy scouts will on Tuesday afternoon be entertained by the lads at an out-door supper, after a hike in which the father of every boy scout will be invited to participate. How the boys enjoy themselves on a scout hike will be demonstrated to the grown-ups. A mammoth city-wide scout demonstration will be staged Friday at the Auditorium, where the scouts will demonstrate some of the most interesting phases of their activity.

What's in a Name?

FOR seventy-five years the name of Daniel Miller, in the Dry Goods and Furnishings trade, has stood for good, honest, serviceable merchandise.

In the year 1846 the foundation of this business was laid, the founder being committed to the proposition that a lasting business could only be built by the distribution of dependable merchandise, the kind that brings your customer back to trade again.

How well this policy has succeeded can be seen by a perusal of the books of the company, showing thousands of merchants who have, by consistently handling Miller Merchandise, grown from the smallest beginnings to a prosperous, successful business.

With the record of achievement of this organization proving beyond question that there is "Something in a Name" the present management feels this the opportune time to publicly pledge itself to a continuation of this policy of name-building, and wherever and whenever possible to improve and amplify the service so as to serve our great army of customers to their very best advantage at all times.

The admission fee of 25 cents will entitle guests to candy and all other attractions. The hours of entertainment will begin at 7:30 and close at 9:30 o'clock.

The Y. W. basketball team is scheduled for several state games this season and in giving Thursday evening's occasion of fun and frolic the girls ask a generous support from their girl and young men friends.

The players for the game will be Misses Peggy Launius, Mary Mann, Gertrude Blair, Mae Ellis, Chaffin, Dorothy Morris, Jane Kelley, Elizabeth Johnson, Dorothy Fischer, both Spear, Olive Hall, Sara Slaughter, Janet Cameron, Ethel Reese and Mercedes Fischer. Miss Lucy Marvin Adams, coach, will be present as official hostess for the evening.

Drama League to Hear Distinguished Russian.

As the last, for this season, in the series of lectures projected by the Atlanta Drama League, Dr. Gregory Zillboorg, eminent Russian author, diplomat, international political figure and economist of wide reputation, will make his first appearance in Atlanta on Friday afternoon.

Few Europeans have produced the profound sensation in their American lecture tours which have characterized every public appearance of Dr. Zillboorg. His first book in English, "The Passing of the Old Order in Europe," has lately been given to the public.

Although qualified to address his audiences in any one of several languages, Dr. Zillboorg's speech is singularly free from foreign accent. He is one of that great central group in Russia, led by Kerensky which hopes for the establishment of a "United States of Eastern Europe," the overthrow of the bolshevik government on the one hand and of the reactionary schemes and militaristic movements for the re-establishing of a monarchy in Russia on the other.

Dr. Zillboorg was one of those appointed to receive and inform the Root commission from the United States concerning conditions in Russia, that period when he was serving in the Russian government.

Flonzaley Quartet Delights Ball Room Audience

The Flonzaley Quartet concert yesterday at the Capital City club, the last event of the Music Study club's series in times, presented probably the most uncompromisingly high class music heard here this season, and yet it drew the largest audience of the chamber music series.

For those who know the Flonzaley organization, it is needless to say that the music was worthy the interest it aroused. Founded on idealism—for the late Alfred de Coppet, of New York, by whose patronage the quartet began its career and was for many years financed—was prompted entirely by his desire to see realized just such a quartet as the present organization has made itself. The founder dead, the four artists have continued it themselves.

Often as they have been here before, there was again inevitable surprise in their playing. There was that second movement for instance of the Beethoven quartet (F major). Have they ever played so vigorously before, with such pointed accents? The movement (allegretto) to vivace e sempre scherzando starts with a singing staccato, each instrument falling successively into line with a broad, quick statement of the theme, and the face fairly tingled with the vigor of it.

Time was, that suave was the compelling interest of the Flonzaley. One revelled in their smooth exequiatory effects, above all things. And this they have not lost, but their program yesterday was a selection to show the outstanding interest, although it was an element in the beauty of their work.

Rather have they added emphasis to other elements. There was, for instance, the quite rhapsodic first movement of the Smolana quartet in E minor. It was characterized with a feeling of which one would almost question the propriety, did one not hear the Flonzaley do it yesterday without harm to the perfect balance one has come to expect of their ensemble.

And then, in the last movement of the same work, vivace assai, how easily they glided back from the prevailing "vivace" to what is, after all, their most alluring style, their suavity. For the work was episodic, and reminiscences of the opening mood of youth and passion crept into the large, and then the sadness of the slow movement fell like a passing shadow on the brilliance of the last.

Very interesting was the Lento on Indian Themes, by the youthful Griffes, who died last year, which the quartet played from manuscript. The theme was in the nature of a lament, and the throbbing tom-toms were suggested in the peculiar rhythm of the accompaniment against the melody, carried first by the violin and then by the cello.

As an encore, the quartet played Percy Grainger's "Molly on the Shore" which they did it with swing and a sweep and a vigor that set one's blood a-tingle.

The quartet consisted of the violinist, Alfred Pochon, second violin, Louis Bally, first viola, Charles d'Archembaud, cello. Each an artist, the sublimeness of the individual nothing to art in the splendid composite character these individualities have, makes of their ensemble.

LOUISE DOOLY.

Two Atlanta Girls Charm With Beautiful Dance

When the last notes of the cello solo played yesterday by Enrico Leide at the Howard theater, softened with the light, the wind and the tania touched the orchestra into bright music, drew the curtains aside, to show Cinderella on the stage, before the chimney and the fire-glow, and her dream became a reality in a mythical Cinderella and Prince Charming.

Miss Virginia Kelly, as Cinderella, and Miss Mary Yow, as Prince Charming, with the orchestra accompaniment, interpreted the dramatic in a charming manner, described as a poem in motion.

To the rhythm of the flute and the violin and the strings, they told in the dance the old story. Every wave of dainty hands, every sway of their graceful bodies, every movement of little feet, were in tune with the harmony of the music from which they drew to make their poem.

And when the clock sounded the mystical veils of twelve, the two merged into the light and were carried away, leaving Cinderella still in the fire-glow and the prince and the audience entranced.

ing as minister of labor to the Kerensky government.

While the lecture of Friday afternoon will deal primarily with the Russian drama, and its reflection of life and thought in Russia, Dr. Zillboorg's wide experience as journalist, debater and controversialist will bring a greater scope of interest than any one subject which he may select for a lecture.

The public generally is cordially invited to avail themselves of this opportunity to hear so noted an authority among European literatures. Admission will be $1 to all but members of the Atlanta Drama League, these to be admitted upon payment of half that price and the presentation of their cards of membership in the league.

The lecture will be given on February 11 at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Unitarian church on West Peachtree, between Kimball and Third streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Poole Give Buffet Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Poole, Jr., entertained at a delightful buffet supper at their home on Cascade road last night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Crouch, of Dawson, Ga. The home was decorated in flowers suggestive of the Valentine season. Silver vases and baskets of red roses and the many potted plants were used. The Valentine idea was carried out in minis and refreshments. Fourteen guests were invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Crouch.

Valentine Sale At Mrs. Ozburn's.

A Valentine sale will be conducted Friday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sam Ozburn, 365 Piedmont avenue, by the committee No. 1, of St. Luke's guild. The ladies composing the committee include Mrs. T. C. Block, Mrs. J. M. Gay, Mrs. W. W. Compton, Misses Glenn, Mrs. J. N. Goddard, Mrs. Clinton Howard, Mrs. Philip L'Engle, Mrs. G. A. Nicholson, Mrs. C. L. Peck, Mrs. A. Wilson, Mrs. R. S. Parker, Mrs. J. M. Slaton, Mrs. Isabel O'Hear, Mrs. C. B. Howard, Mrs. Don Fardley, Mrs. R. S. Johnston, Mrs. Sam Ozburn.

Dinner-Dance At East Lake.

The regular week-end dinner-dance at the East Lake Country club was a social event of Saturday evening.

Among those present were Misses Mildred Dobbs, Nellie Oliver, Margaret Vaughn, Caroline Tye, Ethel Tye, Laura Rose, Jean Douglas, Virginia Walker, Alice Green, Louise Scruggs, Francis Dudley, Gertie Davis, Marianna Goldstein, Frances Peabody, Pan Esther Meakin, Louise Dobbs, Dolly Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snelling, Mr. and Mrs. David Weiss, Mr. and Mrs. Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knowlton, Tom House, Tom Wilson, Wilma Zachary, Ben Hill, Jack Wilkins, Tynders, William Logan, Frank Owens, Dr. E. ### Brantley-Willet.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Philip Brantley request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter, Julia, to Lawrence Willet on Saturday, February 26, at 6 o'clock in the evening at Oak Lane, Blackshear.

Sunday Luncheon.

An informal and enjoyable luncheon was given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. MacLester at the home of East Morris avenue, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Slaton Joseph L. Carmichael, of Jackson, Ga. and Mrs. MacLester.

of white satin, with plumed hat, in graceful calash attire, was a gentle protecting lover, every turn of her head, and every movement, exquisitely finished.

The detail work of the dance individually, and in the ensemble, showed study and care, and reflected the art of their master, Mr. William Claier Spiker, and introduced two young women of bright artistic promise.

Their art, as expressed yesterday afternoon, was the result of the study of rhythm of music, of the drama and of physical culture. There was just that difference in the dancing, in the initiative, work of the uninitiated, that there is between the human exponent of the art which they represent and the mechanical toy which hops when the string is pulled.

No matter what particular line of the drama or stage art these young women essay to follow, they have a basic knowledge which will serve them well, and a knowledge of the fundamentals, which include the culture of dramatic interpretation, rhythm, as it relates to poetry and music—and a certain poise and grace, which results from such knowledge.

Whether or not they ever pursue the study of drama, or of the knowledge which capacitates them to get a real joy out of the beautiful in literature, music, the arts—and life.

Ernest Stuart Coburn, who have recently married, and Mr. and Mrs. Hughen Robert Thornton, also of Jackson.

The table was handsomely adorned with pink carnations and cissus, covers were laid for eight.

Bridge Party And Musical Tea.

There will be a bridge party, followed by a musical tea, at the residence of Colonel and Mrs. W. L. Peel this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the guests. Beautiful prizes have been offered, and hot pancakes will be served.

All friends of the Joseph Habeshon chapter, D. A. R., are invited. The entertainment is for the fund being raised for the memorial hall.

Honoring Mrs. Upson.

Mrs. Herbert Oliver entertained at an informal tea yesterday at her home on Piedmont avenue, complimentary to Mrs. Maxwell Mayhew Upson of Englewood, N. J., who is among the attractive visitors in Atlanta this year.

Throughout the apartments spring flowers, filling silver vases and baskets, were used, while foliage plants and ferns gave an artistic background. The lace covered tea table was graced by a silver basket filled with spring flowers, combining the Dresden shades, Mrs. Lett Warren, of the tea from a silver service at one and the table.

Mrs. Upson was gowned in brown georgette crepe beaded in bronze beads, and her hat was of brown tulle.

Mrs. Herbert Harden, Mrs. A. L. Pendleton, Mrs. Forrest Keith and Mrs. J. M. Slaton, of Baltimore, assisted in entertaining.

Social Club.

A very interesting meeting of the Social club was held in the room of Miss Helen Gresham January 30, the meeting followed by a social.

Those present were Miss Ida Siegel, Miss Velie Epstein, Miss Gertrude Wall, Miss Eva Smolensky, Miss Julia Wittles, Miss Dora Bromberg.

Butterfly Birthday Party Given.

Little Miss Barbara Selman celebrated her fourth birthday yesterday afternoon, at a butterfly party given by her mother, Mrs. James T. Selman, at her home in Ansley Park.

Jonquils and potted plants decorated the house. In the dining room the lace covered tea table had for the central decoration a silver basket, filled with jonquils, the handle tied with a yellow tulle bow. From the chandelier was a shower of yellow tulle caught with yellow butterflies and yellow but-terflies were pinned to the table. Silver candlesticks held unshaded yellow tapers, and on the table from the table was a beautiful birthday cake embossed with yellow butterflies and lighted by four yellow candles.

Each little guest a beautiful valentine and fancy caps which added a bright color to the scene.

During the afternoon the contest of pinning a yellow butterfly in the heart of a rose was enjoyed and prizes awarded. An interesting feature was the butterfly dance rendered by Louise Donahoe and the flower dance by Mildred Dones, both wearing exquisite costumes.

Luncheon and Bridge For Mrs. Upson.

Mrs. Maxwell Mayhew Upson, of New Jersey, will be honor guest at the luncheon given today at the Capital City club by Mrs. Herbert Oliver.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Oliver will entertain at a bridge-tee, at Brookhaven, the Capital City Country club, inviting the following guests to meet this mid-winter visitor: Mrs. A. L. Pendleton, Mrs. Warren Neal, Mrs. W. H. Funkhouser, Mrs. Forrest Keith, Mrs. John R. Simpson, Jr., Mrs. Martin Dunbar, Mrs. N. McCall, Sage and Miss Agnes Bull.

Contests to Feature House Economic Meeting.

One of the most interesting parts of the home economic program given at the Atlanta Woman's club at 2:30 this afternoon will be the "discovery" each housekeeper will describe as having made her work easier. A prize will be offered for the best discovery and the judges will be Mesdames Irving Thomas, Alonzo Richardson and B. M. Boykin.

Other features of the meeting will be the present servant situation, the round-table discussion of which will be Mrs. Irving Thomas, president of the club, will lead. These discussions are very helpful in disseminating knowledge as to current wages, etc.

Final information will be given on the Smith-Hughes classes, and registration made in the order of fees received preference being given those who have already registered their names with the chairmen in advance. The registration fee is $2.

for course of ten lessons, payable upon registration.

Mrs. F. B. Ramey, chairman of the cooking classes, and Miss Mary Means, cooking class instructor, will serve a dainty tea to the special guests and the members of the home economics department.

Guests at the meeting will be Miss Jessie Muse, principal of Girls' High school, where the cooking classes have been held, and Miss Annie Wise, principal of Commercial High, who has offered the use of the serving-room for the home economics sewing classes.

Other guests will be Miss Corinne Chisholm, Miss Beale Kempton and Miss Medora Field, Professor and Mrs. Cliff. Mr. Cliff being director of the Smith-Hughes classes in Atlanta; Miss Mary Means, cooking class teacher; Miss Marie Haines, household arts teacher; Mrs. Mae

The three different kinds of Karo are the choice of the American Family

A MORE hearty endorsement of the purity, wholesomeness and economy of a syrup is impossible. The preference of the intelligent housewives of America is unanimously for Karo.

There is a Karo for every fancy—three kinds. Which do you like best? Read the descriptions to the left.

For Your Protection! Do not accept any syrup for Karo that doesn't bear this mark: This is your protection for original Karo Quality.

There is a Karo for every fancy—three kinds. Which do you like best?

BLUE Karo The standard of all table syrups. Also for cooking, baking and candy making. Light brown color, delicious flavor; a heavy bodied syrup.

RED Karo The Ideal Syrup for every use—for cooking, baking, candy making and preserving. Many prefer it as a spread for cakes, biscuits, breads.

GREEN Karo For those who appreciate the tempting flavor of real maple syrup. Very moderate in price—absolutely pure. The makers of Karo Maple are the world's largest users of the highest grade maple sugar. Over a thousand tons used annually.

January False Start of Move Toward Normal Conditions

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, February 7.—For exactly six minutes after the opening this morning there was a bull market. But then under the leadership of such active shares as American Can, Asphalt, Crucible, Mexican Petroleum, Atlantic Gulf, a decline started that carried prices down from one to three points from the early high. The only real pressure noticeable, however, was in the two stocks last named. Jesse Livermore was credited with heavy short selling in those two stocks. Trading today was even quieter than for any session in the last week's bull market. Most traders are predicting that the existing lull is the quiet that comes just before an approaching storm, which will carry prices lower. Today's turnover was the smallest in many months, only 35,000 shares changing hands between 1 and 2 o'clock.

Here is a message sent out today by one of the largest Broadway commission houses, a stock exchange firm that has been remarkably right for the past year in forecasting price springs: "Having improved in the first half of January it was assumed that general business would continue improving. But the ordinary indices show the stock market must get back in line with business and in doing so will this month approach the December lows. By that time we will have financial conditions which will warrant the beginning of a genuine and sustained major upward price movement on the stock exchange."

MORE LIQUIDATION.

In brief, the head of this house, which has a large business in Boston and throughout New England and hence is in close touch with existing industrial conditions, is of the belief that the January improvement in general trade was a false start and that there must be more liquidation in commodities and bank loans. There are many others in Wall street who hold somewhat the same views, the only difference being in the time that will be required to complete liquidation.

In view of today's news that the leaders of the railroad labor organizations have been given until Thursday to present their side of the pending controversy with the railway executives over wages and working conditions, the railway executives claiming that the railroads were facing bankruptcy owing to the higher operating cost, much interest was displayed by Wall street over the widely published earnings figures of 47 companies for the month of December. Gross showed a gain of 20 per cent over the same month of 1919, compared with the increase of 35 per cent reported for November, 26 per cent for October and 23 for September. But December net showed a gain of not less than 62 per cent owing to reductions in operating expenses, compared with the gain of 77 per cent for November, 14 for October and 9 for September.

It was learned today that the big copper producers are working full speed on their plan to market the large accumulated surplus and that there is no new development within the next few days. There is 400,000,000 pounds of copper involved, on which a value of 10 cents a pound will be placed.

This copper will then be sold on long-term payments as against the usual 30-day payments and a draft drawn against these bank accounts will be used as collateral for the long-term debentures which the copper producers must get back in line with business and in doing so will this month approach the December lows.

Reading shares were strong in spots today on rumors that the long delayed segregation plan ordered by the supreme court was ready and would be made public in a day or so. Some of the most prominent men connected with Reading, including George F. Baker and E. T. Stotesbury, are now on vacations in the south, proving to Wall street that the work on Reading has been completed.

WILLIAMS REPORT.

In his annual report, John Skelton Williams, controller of the currency, recommends that security companies be detached from national banks. He declares that the connections between some of these companies and banks, owing to speculative activities, have become an increasing menace to stability and safety of the banks. All well posted dealers know that Williams is speaking the truth about this situation. It knows, too, where Williams got his information. One large bank here with a security company was closely connected with the Ryan promotions and Ryan gave Williams some facts.

A year ago the reserve ratio of the twelve federal reserve banks were reporting successive weekly decreases and the movement continued until May 14, when the low record for all time was established at 42.2. As late as October 15, of last year, the figures were still down to 42.1. Then came a period of ups and downs with the tendency upward. Since the week ending December 23, when the figures were 44.7, there has been an uninterrupted upward movement until at the beginning of this week 49.3 was reported against 49.0 a week ago, and 44.7 a year ago. These figures are conclusive proof that the money situation, taken as a whole, is getting easier. Because of withdrawals by other banks, New York is making a bad showing. There are one or two other banks, too, whose reserve ratio is still too low. But the situation as a whole is encouraging. Here is the showing of the individual banks:

	This week.	Week ago.	Year ago.
Boston	66.5	65.3	40.8
New York	38.4	38.3	39.7
Philadelphia	58.4	59.5	40.4
Cleveland	66.6	64.1	48.4
Richmond	49.0	47.4	46.8
ATLANTA	43.0	42.0	49.1
Chicago	61.5	50.0	48.3
St. Louis	41.4	39.9	49.0

Dallas	55.9	53.9	41.7
San Francisco	55.9	53.9	41.7

Following the successive announcements made last week of reductions in crude and refined oil dispatches were received from Shreveport, La., today to the effect that wages in the Homer field should be reduced with two hours added to a day's work.

Dealers in cement announced today a price reduction of 40 cents a barrel, from $4.50 to $4.10. The higher figures ruled throughout January. This was the third cut since the high price of $5.10. F. W. Woolworth reports for the year ended December 31, 1920, a surplus for the common stock equal to $13.8 a share on the $65,000,000 common shares outstanding, against $17.0 reported in 1919, for the $50,000,000 then outstanding. The balance sheet looks good.

ATLANTA PEOPLE WARNED TO WATCH FOR RAISED BILLS

FOR RAISED BILLS

Following the report made by the proprietor of a Marietta street wren stand that a $1 bill had been passed on him, officers issued a warning to all Atlanta merchants to watch for raised bills.

The man who passed the bill is said to have been between 20 and 25 years of age, five feet ten inches high, with dark hair, and a soft hat. Under the federal laws, private citizens are authorized to place under arrest and hold for the authorities any person attempting to pass bad money.

Classes Still Open At Evening School Of Georgia Tech

At Evening School Of Georgia Tech

Dean A. B. Morton, of the evening school of applied sciences at Georgia Tech, announces that new classes will begin during each of the first four evenings of this week, and that those who still desire to enter the school for the new term may register by applying to the office of the school in Academic building, on the Tech campus, between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock. The new term was officially opened Monday evening. The school offers fine opportunities for men engaged in industrial and scientific occupations to become better fitted for their work.

Market Becomes More Consolidated as Result of Week-End Incidents. Shorts Extended.

New York, February 7.—Stock market conditions became more consolidated today by reason of incidents over the long-term debentures which the copper producers must get back in line with business and in doing so will this month approach the December lows.

Reading shares were strong in spots today on rumors that the long delayed segregation plan ordered by the supreme court was ready and would be made public in a day or so.

Dealers in cement announced today a price reduction of 40 cents a barrel, from $4.50 to $4.10. The higher figures ruled throughout January.

F. W. Woolworth reports for the year ended December 31, 1920, a surplus for the common stock equal to $13.8 a share on the $65,000,000 common shares outstanding, against $17.0 reported in 1919, for the $50,000,000 then outstanding. The balance sheet looks good.
